Dear Barry,

Congratulations on passing the Global Certified Accessible™ program requirements! Your commitment to accessibility is a great achievement for equity and inclusion, helping improve lives of millions of people living with a reading barrier. Through your efforts, people with disabilities can read the same book as their peers without having to get a separate accessible copy. This opens up important printed content to help people learn, work, and achieve their dreams.

As a Global Certified Accessible partner, you are uniquely qualified to help publishers create Born Accessible content. Your skills and knowledge provide the expertise needed to ensure each book is properly formatted and has all the necessary elements to support all readers. We strongly support your work and we look forward to a strong collaborative relationship as leaders in accessible publishing.

Again, congratulations on GCA™ certification!
